

Special Issue Proposal Form

Special Issues are collections of papers centered around a subject of special interest and are led by subject experts who take on the role of Guest Editor of the Special Issue. They can also be used to commemorate a special academic events, such as scientific meeting, conference or symposium. Special Issues bring authors together and give readers easier access between articles. We encourage you to find more details on MDPI Special Issues and the benefits of being a Guest Editor here. Please let us know your interest by filling in the form below. Our internal editors will get back to you shortly.

Part I: Guest Editor(s):

Note: A list of 1–3 proposed Guest Editor(s) including the following information should be provided. It is important to build a strong Guest Editor team. The Guest Editor(s) should have a good standing in the proposed area, and be diligent and timely in the editorial work related to the Special Issue.

Full Name and Title Prof./Prof. Dr./Dr. xxx	Affiliation department/school/faculty/campus, university, city, post code, country	Email Address Institutional email address is preferred	Webpage	Research Interests few keywords of your expertise

Part II: Special Issue Information:

A short description (about 150–200 words) of the Special Issue is necessary, which will be announced online as the online call for paper. This summary should be a guide to potential authors and should clarify the background and aims of the Special Issue, and a list of topics to be covered.
